HGL CLUB PLANS SWIMMING PARTY

The HGL completed plans at their last meeting for a swimming party. Tomorrow night they will have a swimmer and a swimming party afterwards. The Club has adopted two projects including the supervision of the wading pool and running the "Little Store" in the Community Center for this summer.

WADING POOL IS OPEN

The wading pool at the Community is now open. It is being supervised by the "Happy-Go-Lucky Club." It is open from 2 to 6 p.m. daily for children eight years of age or younger. The pool is cleaned daily and the water purified. There is no charge for the use of this pool.

NURSERY GROUP GROWING

The nursery group now includes more than 60 members. It has become one of the most popular phases of the recreation program. Saturday morning of this week the wading pool will be open for this group. Mothers are reminded to let their children bring their swim suits. This group is under the supervision of Mrs. Max Lockwood. Membership is confined to children up to 6 years of age. The program is conducted each Saturday morning from 9 to 12. The service is free.

War On Bugs In Bulloch Bigger

The war on bugs in Bulloch county seems to be bigger than ever this year, with many new insects showing up.

Thrips have shown up on peanuts again this year, causing the bud and tender leaves to look weather-beaten and the peanuts stop growing. Toxaphene is recommended by the experiment stations as the best control known for them. Some are using five per cent DDT and sulphur effectively. Corn-eat worms are worse than normal on mutton corn. The five per cent DDT and tale mixture is giving good control of this pest. Boll weevils are extremely active already. The 3-5-40 BHC and Toxaphene, 2-4-20, 40, are recommended as the best materials available for controlling them. The BHC is perhaps giving the best control on cotton lice.

Blight has shown up on the tomatoes. The acreage in the county is larger than normal for commercial tomatoes. A special copper mixture found locally in the feed and seed stores is controlling the blight.

Anthrax has shown up in watermelons. There are more acres of melons this year than normal in the county. A Bordeaux mixture is giving the best control when applied to effected areas. Most growers are spraying the entire fields.

Tobacco growers are still trying to get rid of lice on their crops. TEPP as a spray and parathion dust are being used generally. Many of the growers are using a parathion dust with one per cent of DDT in it to kill the bud worms and the green peach aphid at one operation.

In buying a house dress, it is well to examine seams, especially for enough width to let out if necessary, and for strength of stitching.

Always try on a house dress before buying and be sure to examine the labels, seams and other construction details.

Mail Schedule Is Improved From Savannah Here

Arthur Turner, postmaster of the Statesboro post office, this week announces a change in the mail schedule of the Highway Post Office from Savannah to Statesboro.

According to Mr. Turner the revised schedule provides for the mail bus to leave Savannah at 3:15 instead of 6 p.m., and will reach Statesboro at 5:15 instead of 8 p.m.

This change permits mail received at the Savannah post office by mid-afternoon to reach Statesboro for box delivery the same business day. It also provides for improved connections through Macon for mail going to South Georgia and Florida points.

Post office authorities believe that this change in schedule will operate to the benefit of the mailing public of the Statesboro post office.

Swimming Lessons Are Offered at Pool

Max Lockwood, director of recreation of the city department of recreation, puts it this way, "If you are over eight and under 80 and are interested in learning to swim, now is your chance."

That is his way of announcing that the department of recreation now is teaching swimming.

All adults who are interested may join a swimming class by reporting to the swimming pool on Mondays, Wednesdays, or Fridays, from 9 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Only beginning swimmers will be taken in the adult class. All youth will be given swimming instruction from 10 to 11 a.m., along with the intermediates. Advanced swimmers will be given instruction from 11 to 12 noon each day, Monday through Friday. All students will report to class dressed for swimming. Be on time.

This instruction is a part of the recreation program and is given at no cost to the individual.

Judge Renfro Attends Reunion of '00 Class

By JANE

Judge J. L. Renfro left Statesboro last Friday for Atlanta and Emory University.

It was the first time that he had attended a class reunion since he graduated from Emory (at Oxford) in 1900. In his class of 47, there were 17 present. They came from Miami, Fort Lauderdale, Tampa, and places throughout Georgia. There were lawyers, business men, government workers, and some who had retired, representing the class of 1900. On Saturday Alben Barkley, vice-president of the United States, reached Atlanta by plane and the motorcade with the group to Oxford where they were greeted by approximately 500 people. The Judge said politicians would have estimated the crowd at about 2,500. Alben Barkley gave a brief address at Oxford and was the speaker at commencement exercises at Emory University at which time a L.L.D. degree was conferred upon him.

VBS To Graduate 168 At Baptist Church

Rev. George Lovell, pastor of the church, acting as principal for the school, stated that enrollment is numbered 168.

An exhibit of notebooks and handicrafts will be displayed and friends and parents of the children are invited to attend.

Cemetery Cleaning 17th

Guards Seeking for Planes for Air Show

Arrangements are made for miscellaneous aircraft to take part in the National Guard Air Show to be staged here on Sunday, August 14.

It is understood that Colonel Ellis hopes to secure several types of aircraft, including the A-26, the P-51, the P-47, C-47, and jet planes.

Colonel Kuhn of the Georgia Air National Guard in Savannah has assured Colonel Ellis that there will be several jet propulsion planes here for the show.

He stated that the jets will be placed for inspection and that the public will be able to get a close view of the fast planes.

Colonel Ellis stated that application has been made to the Civil Aeronautics Authority for permission to hold the air show.

He stated that many commercial aircraft manufacturers have been invited to the show.

The show will last about two and one-half hours and it is expected to be one of the biggest shown in the Southeast.

DDT Spray Program Available In Bulloch

Dr. W. D. Lundquist, Commissioner of Health of the Bulloch County Health Department, announced this week that the DDT Residual Spray Malaria Control Program is now available to all residents of Bulloch County.

He states that although the program is primarily intended to control the malaria mosquito, it has proven very effective in controlling, but not eradicating, flies, and other household insects.

He points out that there has been a great amount of experimental work on the question of flies developing immunity to DDT. He says that the present status of DDT, experimental and practical, indicates that some species of flies may develop a slight resistance to the insecticide but do not become immune to the chemical. Contact with the DDT by the flies for a long-enough time will result in its death. "Some flies may take just a little longer to absorb a killing dose than others," he says.

He adds that "the control of insect pests has resulted in a marked reduction of the incidence of insect-borne diseases, and it is only by the scrupulous practice of good sanitation and by maintaining in and cooperating with programs such as these that we may continue to enjoy a healthy physical and economic life."

Raymond Hagan Named 4-H Club President for 1950

Raymond Hagan will be the county 4-H Club president for next year, as per the results of an election held Saturday by the county council.

Raymond is the retiring president of the Brooklet 4-H Club and has served as president of the Leefield club for three terms. He succeeds Hazel Creaky of Nevils.

Elected to serve with Raymond starting in September were Beverly Brannen, Novis, as girls' vice president; Heyward Morris, Stillson, as boys' vice president; Boots Beasley, Register, secretary; Bob Thompson, Leefield, treasurer; Sara Taylor, Portia, reporter, and Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Wills and Mr. and Mrs. Rufus G. Brannen as advisors.

Raymond and Beverly were named voting delegates for the county 4-H Clubs at all district and state meetings for the year and Hazel will serve as song leader.

Bulloch county 4-H Clubs will be represented in the district meeting here in July by Melva Creaky in the yeast bread and biscuit making; Boots Beasley in the food preparation; Marjorie Floyd and Johnny Lindsey in public speaking; Paul Akins in forestry; W. I. Tidwell Jr. in livestock judging; Mary Wills junior girls style review; Wynette Blackburn senior girls style review, and June Edem in field in mufin making.

DDT Not Losing It's Punch

RUMOR HAS IT that DDT is losing its punch. But it's not so, says the Health Department. "There has been a great amount of experimental work on whether or not flies develop immunity to DDT and much more has been written in newspapers and magazines. The present status of DDT, papers and practical, indicates that some species of flies may develop a slight resistance to the insecticide, but do not become immunized to the chemical. Contact with the DDT by the fly for a long enough period of time will result in its death. Some flies may take just a little longer to absorb a killing dose than others."

There are those who are just so onery that it is a little harder to kill them. Right now the Bulloch County Health Department is working on the local residual spray malaria control program and is making it available to all residents of Bulloch County. The program, although primarily intended to control the malaria mosquito, has proven very effective in controlling but not eradicating, flies and other household insects.

Get Junior's Birth Certificate

DO YOU really realize the importance of registering the birth of your child?

Every year parents in Georgia are spending thousands of dollars in the effort to obtain "delayed birth certificates" for their children, when it would have cost them nothing to have registered them within ten days of their births.

When you neglect to register your child at birth and later the occasion comes up demanding a birth certificate, there is considerable trouble in gathering the necessary proof of birth required for a delayed birth certificate.

In many cases sufficient evidence in proof of birth cannot be obtained to satisfy the legal requirements.

And so, persons who may be qualified for pensions, important positions, governmental appointments, may be rejected—all because their parents neglected to properly register their births.

If your child is not now registered, then tie a string around your finger to remind you to get Junior a birth certificate.

For Safer Driving

A 16-YEAR-OLD Statesboro High School boy, Paul Womack, has won a new automobile as a trip to the National Student Roadster proving himself best of a field of 13 in Georgia's first annual teen-ager roadster or drivers' contest.

It took this young fellow just a little over three minutes to show his prowess at open and broken-finish driving; at parking a car into and out of tight places, and at getting the machine properly.

Besides all that, he had to pass a test of 70 questions on rules of the road.

It would be a good thing if every Georgia motorist had to meet these Roadster requirements in order to get a driver's license.—The Atlanta Constitution.

We Have Been Sleeping

THIS NEWSPAPER has pointed out in the past the dire need for an organized, adequately financed effort to attract new industry to Screven county.

No better evidence that this need still exists can be found than in a statement made recently by Clark Gaines, secretary of the State Department of Commerce, before the Public Works Committee of the national House of Representatives.

His statement included statistics on the new industries which have been established in counties on the Georgia side of the Savannah River area during the past nine years.

The table shows Screven county had 19 industries in 1940 and in the period from 1940 to 1949 added only two new industries.

How does this record compare with other counties? Take adjoining Bulloch county. In 1940 our neighbors across the Ogeechee had 31 industries and in the nine years since then have added 16 new industries. Another county comparable in size to Screven is Washington. In 1940 that county had 34 industries and up to 1949 had added 18 new industries.

Why has Screven county been so neglected in the location of new industries? Mainly because Screven county has not been out fighting to get industry to locate here.

It is true that some work has been done and is being done to attract industry here, but we just haven't put our whole heart into it so far.

Lacking a Chamber of Commerce with a full-time paid secretary who could devote all his time to such matters, our next best bet is an industrial development corporation. This can be done only if the people of the county, who will stand to benefit from new industry, are willing to invest a little capital in it.

Too many communities are out seeking new

According to the statement from the health department the control of insect pests has resulted in the marked reduction of the incidence of insect-borne diseases. It is only by the scrupulous practice of good sanitation and by participating in and cooperating with programs such as these that we may continue to enjoy a healthy physical, and economic life.

We are still strong believers in the effectiveness of the DDT as a control of malaria.

We saw it operate in the jungles of the South Pacific. And if it worked there it can work here.

And if the scientist, connected with our health departments, tells us that DDT is still as effective as ever, we'll go along with them and know it's so.

June is the month. Let the health department spray your home and premises.

You'll receive the satisfaction that you are helping make our county a more beautiful place in which to live.

Swimming Pool Rules

OH, YOU say you knew it was too good to last. So you thought there would be no rules and regulations to spoil the fun of the swimming pool.

Well now, wait a minute. Rules and regulations are sometimes designed so that you can have more fun.

That's the kind of rules and regulations these are.

Here's a sample— "You will not be allowed to take bottles or food beyond the chain which separates the terrace from the pool and the bath house."

That seems reasonable doesn't it? For a bottle knocked over or dropped on concrete will be broken and broken bottle pieces can be very dangerous. And you can slip up on a piece of wet bread and maybe break your neck.

See what we mean? So take the rules and regulations in stride. Know that the members of the recreation board is thinking of you and your welfare and want you to have all the fun in the world.

Even if you have just had a bath at your home before going to the pool, get under a shower and give yourself a "washing down."

Now that's sensible, don't you think? There are chemicals in this foot bath that prevent the spread of "athlete's foot" and other fungus infections.

"You will not be allowed to use the pool if you have an open cut or wound that might become infected."

That's just plain common sense. "You will be allowed to take bottles or food past the chains in the pool enclosure."

A broken bottle in the pool would mean that the pool would have to be drained and cleaned out and you would lose a day or so of swimming. Not so good, eh?

"All spectators are asked not to enter the pool enclosure and the bath house at any time unless they intend to go in swimming."

"There'll be no pushing, shoving, or horse-play allowed along the sides of the pool."

When one blows his whistle at you, know that it is for your safety. Do what he says immediately. He's there to make sure that your fun is not spoiled.

These rules are not rough, are they? The pool belongs to you and you, and you. And to enjoy it take these rules in stride.

I am not bound to win but I am bound to be true—I am not bound to succeed but I am bound to live up to what I have—I must stand with anybody that stands right; stand with him while he is right and part with him when he goes wrong.—Abraham Lincoln.

I feel that I cannot succ... about the Divine blessing, and on the Almight... doing I place my reliance for support.—Abraham Lincoln.

A Verse for This Week

THROUGH heralded with thought of feat, Or outward sign of show; Though only to the inward ear It whispers soft and low; Though dropping the manna fell, Unseen, yet from above, Noiseless as dew-fall, heed it well— Thy Father's call of love.

Hazard of the Game

THE VACANT LOT LEAGUE SEASON IS TEMPORARILY CLOSED.

The Editor's Uneasy Chair

Daily we visit Memorial Park Swimming Pool. It's wonderful to see the scores of youngsters in the water having a glorious time.

It does our heart good to see them untroubled of the troubles of the world. Carefree. Happy. Cool.

Citizens of Statesboro can now hold their heads high and never have to apologize for what they are doing for their young people.

If you have not visited the swimming pool, do so. It'll thrill you to see your youngsters having such a wonderful time.

Every day the Senate and House of Representatives meet in Washington, D. C. Each opens its session with a prayer.

These prayers are printed in The Congressional Record, and some of them are beautiful. Without going back over the past issues to pick out a special prayer we want to reprint the one before us in the June 2 issue. It was made by the Chaplain, Rev. Frederick Brown Harris, D.D.

"God of all grace, whose dwelling place is light without the shadow of any earthly thine clouds, we who at our best but see as through a glass darkly, come seeking the radiance of Thy presence. In these fearful days for whose decisions the future will judge, may we maintain our integrity, unswayed by personal ambitions, prejudices, or animosities, regarding always public office as a sacred trust. As with our fallible judgments we have a part in the shaping of the world that is to be, give to us the vision, the wisdom, the courage that will make for both justice and lasting peace. We ask it in the dear Redeemer's name. Amen."

"Bring an incubator and hurry, please!"

The request was made recently by a local physician who had delivered a premature baby in a Bulloch county home.

The request was made of the Bulloch County Health Department.

The request was granted. The incubator was rushed to the home. The nurse soon had it heated to the proper temperature.

The newborn babe was wrapped in a warm blanket and put into the incubator.

The chance of that baby growing into a normal boy or girl was greatly enhanced the second it was placed in that incubator.

Before the doctor and nurse left a member of the baby's family was instructed in the operation of the incubator.

In addition to this, a member of the family received instruction in preparing the baby's feedings, the changing and cleansing the baby without exposure.

Recently there were six babies, born prematurely, being cared for in incubators in our county.

These six new citizens were given an excellent chance to survive. They received frequent visits and trained supervision by nurses from our health department.

Three other "prematures" have been removed from incubators this year—for they had reached a weight of five pounds or more.

If for no other reason, these nine lives are worth the work being done by Dr. Lunquist and his department.

AT THE ORGAN SOFTLY PLAYING

Do you happen have an old spinning wheel among your antique treasures? If you have, we could get together and achieve an ideal setting for the dramatization of that sad, sweet old song "The Old Spinning Wheel in the Parlor," because, you see, I own an organ—a real, authentic specimen of the vintage of 1882, made in Fort Wayne, Indiana, by Packard—with red Brussels carpet on its pedals and red silk area above its key-board, and with wooden swells that you push with your knees to make the music louder.

The best and choicest of sounds come out of the thing when you play it, and I've been influenced by elderly enthusiasts of the Victorian era to consider a manually-operated organ the true accompaniment to hymns and ballads.

The organ has been mine since the spring of 1945, when a hunt by my cousin, Wennie Brunner, was rewarded by the finding of it in Haywards, Ohio, where it had stood unused for years in a seldom-visited parlor. The top of the organ was detached and had long since been detached and relegated to the attic, or garret, as folks say in Ohio.

When Wennie wrote to ask if I wanted the highly ornate top of the instrument, I got a special delivery letter off to the effect that most certainly did.

And, honestly, along with the lovely tone of that organ, the fancy top is the joy of my life. It has cute little balconies dressed with balustrades of rich and intricate design. And there are carved and pointed upright ornaments that remind you of mosques and temples and the miniature towers of miniature cathedrals.

Two neat shelves, circular shelves with embossed rims are provided for lamps. And the only marred place on the entire organ is a spot where kerosene oil must have dripped on one of those little round shelves.

From its sides, the wood in the lower half of the organ is cut to resemble violins. When you stand off and view it, you almost think you're seeing two walnut fiddles.

Well, when I first got the organ, it was without a stool. The people had told Wennie the stool had worn out and had been thrown away. So I just used a dining room chair and got along fine.

But, when my mother and John took a swing around Ohio after John came home from the navy, my Aunt Hazel took them to an old-time sale of household goods, where the chant of the auctioneer rang out on the autumn air and the bidding was brisk and spirited.

Among the interesting items, were two old organ stools that had lost their organs. So, when the first stool was put on the block, Mom started to bid, and it seemed nobody else in the crowd had been longing and yearning for an organ stool, so she got it for $1.25. When the auctioneer's hammer went down for the third time, John raced up and grabbed that stool before the auctioneer could change his mind. The other stool, which turned out to be less attractive than this one, brought $6.75.

McLEMORE-CHISHOLM

On Wednesday evening at 8:30, June 1 at the First Baptist Church, Miss Betty McLemore, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. McLemore, became the bride of Robert Louis Chisholm Jr., of Monks Corner, S. C., and Chicago, Rev. C. M. Coulson, pastor of the Hendricks Avenue Baptist Church in Jacksonville, performed the impressive double ring ceremony before a fashionable gathering of society.

Stately palms formed a background for tall crystal chandeliers of white gladioli and maiden hair ferns. Four seven-branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers furnished soft illumination for the nuptial scene and enhanced the beauty of graceful and elegant bridesmaids in white and Easter lilies over the arch and on the choir rail. Family pews were marked with satin ribbon and Easter lilies.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by Mrs. E. L. Barnes, organist, and Jack Averitt, soloist. The vocal numbers were "Be-cause" and "I Love Thee."

The usher-groomsmen were Dave Logan, brother-in-law of the groom, Robert McLemore, of Albany, brother of the bride; W. B. Bowers Jr., and C. O. Connelly Jr., of Varnville, S. C.; Leo Chisholm of Monks Corner, was the groom's best man.

Miss Frieda Gernant, of Collegeboro and Kalamazoo, Mich., was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Julia Meadows of Vidalia and Augusta, and Jackie Upshaw of Collegeboro and Marietta. Miss Gernant wore a light blue tulle dress with a train. The bridesmaids wore tulle dresses in a shade of blue lighter than that worn by the maid of honor. They wore bouquets of feverfew and delphinium in their hair and carried lace fans on which were posed bouquets of gladioli and delphiniums.

The lovely blonde bride entered with her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her dress of ivory satin was fashioned with long sleeves ending in points over the hands. Hand embroidered designs of seed pearls accented the sweetheart neckline. Attached to the close-fitting bodice was a bouffant skirt extending in the back to form a graceful train. Her veil of tiered illusion was held in place by a coronet of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with a white purple-throated orchid. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

The bride's mother wore dusty rose crepe with crystal and pearl bead trim. Her corsage was an orchid. The groom's mother, Mrs. R. L. Chisholm, of Varnville, was gowned in blue crepe with an orchid corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony a formal reception was held at the lovely home of the bride's parents on Savannah avenue. The reception hall and living rooms were beautifully decorated with white gladioli and the mantels were banked with magnolias. The bride's table in the dining room was overlaid with an exquisite handmade Chinese cloth, elaborately embroidered. The three-tiered wedding cake was the central decoration and was flanked by silver candelabra holding white tapers. Suspended over this was a mammoth wedding bell fashioned from white gladioli. Extending from it to the corners of the table were wide satin ribbons held in place by satin bows showered with valley lilies, orange blossoms and fern.

RUSHING-WYNN
The Union Baptist Church was the scene Saturday afternoon of the marriage of Miss Mary Dean Rushing, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Rushing, of Register, to Edwin Wynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wynn Sr. of Port.

The ceremony was performed by Elder J. Walter Hendricks, of Savannah, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. Smiles and pin bouquets were silhouetted against a white background and four seven-branched candelabra holding cathedral tapers were interspersed with standards of white gladioli and woodwardia ferns. The nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. George Kelly, pianist, and Jack Averitt, organist, who sang "Be-cause" and "I Love Thee."

Special guests were Kerri Carr, chairman of Bulloch County Scout Committee; John Gee, a member of the committee; H. Travis Thompson, of Savannah, head scout executive for Atlantic Coastal Empire Council, and James Bland, Chaplains were Nathan Jones, John Groover, and George Ann Howard. Mothers assisting were Mesdames Guy Freeman, Osborne Banks, Glenn Jennings, Ernest Cannon, James Bland, and James Waters.

GET THAT BASKET READY FOR NEEDHAM LEE REUNION

ALL'S FAIR

Watermelons and ball games, a fishing pole and line, an azure pool with spring boards just on the edge of town. All conspire to make us forget that inevitable deadline. But summer time is lovely even though you have to cook when relatives and friends come visiting with a lean and hungry look . . .

This sounds fishy—Recently Remer Brady Sr. and Remer Jr. were fishing. Remer Sr. felt a tug at his line; he also sighted a wasp nest and an angry wasp came zooming out to defend his home. Remer struck at the wasp and knocked off his hat, which belonged to Remer Jr., not until some time later did Remer Sr. discover that he had also knocked his glasses in the water . . .

On a morning visit to our cool and restful library we encountered three children absorbed in the attractive books in the children's section. They were Sandra, Susan, and Bernard Scott Jr. They visit the library daily. One day Sandra came home all in a dither. "Mama," she said angrily, "I'm just not going to let Bernard go back to the library any more. He misbehaved and I spanked him then and there."

Elizabeth Scott tells this one—Susan, darling, what are you going to give me for Mother's Day? Susan—"What is Mother's Day?" Elizabeth explained that it was a day on which children showed their love for their mothers by presenting them with a gift. Susan, without too much deliberation, countered with this positive statement—"Mama, I'm not going to give you anything. I want to know when is Children's Day?"

Other frequent visitors to the library are Vivian and Betty Lett, Chief Bill Lett's daughters. They are always accompanied by their dachshund, "Flapper." If Flapper misses them at home he makes a bee-line to the library and look in all the places they are accustomed to visit while there. If he fails to locate them, he goes and looks up at Nan Edith Jones, an when she tells them they aren't

Weekly News Report

Patronize the following members of the Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce. Each is working for a better Statesboro and Bulloch County. Let's all boost our City and County. Tell other Georgians of the advantages we have in Greater Bulloch County:

The Statesboro Junior Chamber of Commerce is undertaking a Chamber of Commerce project, now that the city pool has been completed and put into operation. The project is to work toward securing at least two tennis courts in Statesboro. Local Jaycees received copies of the Georgia State Roster this week. The roster lists the names, addresses, wives' names, and other facts about all members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce in Georgia. The booklet carries a list of the officers of each club.

A committee has been appointed to talk to proper parties concerning the securing of tennis courts. The committee might be made for constructing these courts. If you have an suggestion, please call Mr. J. L. Walker at 472.

College Students to Take Census of Statesboro

If people come knocking at your door next week asking questions, don't slam the door in their face. And when they tell you they are taking a census of Statesboro, don't think they are misrepresenting the facts just because it's not yet 1950.

The class in Principles of Sociology at Georgia Teachers College, under the direction of Prof. David Hawk, is completing plans for a census of the entire white population of the city of Statesboro to begin on Monday, June 20.

Students members of the class will act as enumerators in obtaining from residents in homes here, answers to a selected number of questions relating to residence, age, sex, and marital and educational status. From a tabulation of these answers they hope to obtain a scientific description of Statesboro's population.

Residents of Statesboro are asked to cooperate in making this survey possible. It promises to furnish both valuable practice to the students in learning at first hand about a typical Georgia community, and a set of facts about the city itself which will be of value to all townpeople who are interested in community development.

Charles Davis Is Baby Show Champ

The other winners are as follows: Alfred Dorman Sauve, second place in the six months to two-year-old group.

In the one to two-year-old group, Jan Tillman won first, and Neal Allen Cressey, second.

In the two to four-year-old group, Gail Williams won first, and Teresa Helmut, second.

In the four to six-year-old group Carolyn Kenan won first and Billy Davis, second.

Grand Champ Charles Davis received a silver loving cup. Judges were Mrs. E. H. Youngblood, Mrs. C. E. Powell, and Mrs. Roy Brannon of Swainsboro. Music was furnished by Jean Gay.

Montros Graham Is Co-op Manager

Mr. Graham graduated from the University of Georgia in agricultural engineering Saturday. He was a former outstanding 4-H Club boy here in the county, and then after a year at the University he was procured by the Modena Plantation to act as herdsman for some two years.

He then served four years in the navy and then returned to school. W. H. Smith Jr., association president, says that his qualifications are everything the cooperatives wanted in a manager and that the group as a whole thought he would fill the job.

Mr. Graham succeeds John W. Grapp who resigned to enter some phase of contracting on his own.

The West Side organization bought some $50,000 worth of heavy tractors, blades, pumps and trucks about two years ago to build farm and fish ponds with, and to clear land for pastures and other things. The machines have been busy most of these two years here in the county.

Plans Continue For Guard Air Show

Colonel Henry J. Ellis of the Statesboro National Guard returned from Atlanta recently where he arranged with Adj. Gen. Ernest Vandiver for planes and equipment for the Air Show to be staged here on August 14.

Colonel Ellis stated that the Adjutant General assured him of the full cooperation of the Air National Guard and that there will be plenty of planes here that day.

Plans and arrangements for the show continue and it is believed that it will be one of the largest. If not the largest, air show to be held in the Southeast.

Lions President To Attend Convention

Bob Clontz, incoming president of the Statesboro Lions Club, will represent the local club at the annual convention of Georgia Lions in Macon Sunday through Tuesday of next week.

Mr. Clontz was recently elected president of the local Lions. He succeeded Henry J. Ellis. Mr. Clontz will take office the last week in June.

Others of the local club plan to make the trip to Macon.

MACEDONIA REVIVAL

Revival services will begin at Macedonia Baptist Church Sunday, June 19, and will continue through June 25. Rev. J. W. Groves, pastor of the Ft. Wentworth Baptist Church, will be the guest speaker. W. H. Evans is pastor of the local church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Time To Dust For Leaf Spot on Peanuts

With the appearance of leaf spot on peanuts, it is time for Bulloch county farmers to start their sulphur dusting program.

Georgia Experiment Station results on dusting with sulphur show an increase in peanut yield of from 30.3 per cent to 62.2 per cent over undusted peanuts in the same field and less shrivels and pick-outs on the dusted peanuts, besides lengthening the digging season and improving the quality of the hay by the fact more leaves are retained on the plants.

The station recommends that dusting be started when leaf spot shows up, which is usually around June 20 and that at least three applications of 20 pounds each be applied at 10 to 14-day intervals. If the dust is washed off in 12 to 24 hours after applying, the next application should be applied in seven days.
